CONGRESS--ANOTHER SCHEME.

The debate in Congress upon referring that the Tariff to committee is more interesting than any of the proceedings since the opening of the present session; and we have therefore copied it at some length. The question of the reduction of duty on railroad iron has been up in both Houses, and the development of opinion in each body is apparently in favor of reduction. It may be a just policy to let railroad iron pass the receipt of customer and Canada, beg to return thanks to the effect that an adjustment of the trailroad iron pass the receipt of customer and Canada, beg to return thanks to the effect that an adjustment of the trailroad iron thanks to the control of th toms free and at the same time impose a duty the President and Directors of the C. & P. on the principle of protection upon many other articles of common and nec- R.
